

ALL CORN IS FAR ADVANCED

Tassels Beginning to Appear Much Earlier Than Ever Before.

BIG CROP BEING PREDICTED

With Bumper Crop of Small Grain Practically All Harvested Experts Are Beginning to Predict Best Corn Crop.

With a bumper small grain crop practically all harvested the railroad men are beginning to predict one of the biggest corn crops ever raised in the state. The Burlington after receiving reports from all of the agents of Nebraska summarizes the corn situation as follows:

There are no unfavorable reports as to the condition of corn in Nebraska. In spite of the unusual amount of moisture the corn is generally clean and is far advanced for this time in July. In a few fields the tassels are beginning to appear and the critical period while corn is fertilizing will be passed with continued favorable conditions much earlier than in most previous years.

Away Above Average.
The estimated conditions of corn made by station agents range from 100 to 115 per cent. With the amount of moisture in the ground the prospects for a large corn crop are exceedingly good. As to the wheat yield, the Burlington places the amount per acre at the highest average in the history of the state.

On the McCook division the yield is placed at twenty-five bushels per acre on the main line from Kearsaw to Holdrege; thirty-five bushels per acre from Holdrege to Oxford; fifteen bushels per acre from Oxford to McCook; thirty bushels per acre from McCook to Akron; thirty to thirty-five bushels in the Republican valley and fifteen to thirty bushels over the St. Francis branch.

In Jefferson, Saline Thayer, Fillmore, Nuckolls, Clay, Webster, Adams, Franklin and Kearney counties in the south central section, the yield is estimated at twenty-five bushels.

Five on Northwest.
The Northwest's station crop report of this date sums up the crop situation as follows:

Wahoo—Wheat harvest under full sway, second cutting alfalfa being made.

Ceresco—Wheat about all cut, threshing commences today. Corn laid by.

Gresham—Wheat about all cut, threshing commences, second crop alfalfa about ready for cutting.

Houston—Wheat cutting about finished. Corn about laid by, all forage crops doing splendidly.

Henderson—Wheat about all cut, threshing today. Oats about ready to cut. Potatoes on high ground doing well.

Harvard—Threshing starts today.

Bruno—Wheat about all cut, corn being in years. Much alfalfa already cut twice.

Goshen—Cutting wheat about finished. Threshing commences today. Corn never better.

Exeter—Wheat about all cut. Thought will thresh about twenty-three bushels. Corn beginning to tassel.

Geneva—Wheat best ever. Hail did slight damage to oats and some wheat not cut.

Shickley—Wheat about all cut. Plenty rain. Oats better than last year. Good crop of alfalfa.

Albion—Wheat about all cut. Corn about all laid by. Second alfalfa crop looking fine.

Hastings—Wheat about all cut. Will thresh about twenty-five bushels. Quality fine. Second crop of alfalfa cut. This week Corn ten days ahead of last year.

David City—Wheat will run twenty to thirty bushels. Second crop of alfalfa about ready to cut.

Heavy Rains Fall in Southern and Western Nebraska

While farmers contend they are not needing rain, at least until the small grain harvest is out of the way, according to the railroads, they are getting it, and in some portions of the state more than they know what to do with. The Burlington's weather report indicates that the entire southwestern portion of the state was given a drenching Sunday and Sunday night, there being three inches at and around Orleans and Red Cloud, with one to two inches at and around Republican, Oxford, McCook, Benkelman and Arapahoe. Rains of one-half to one inch are reported over practically all of that portion of the Burlington, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Northwestern, west of the central portion of the state. In many places the heavy rain has softened the railroad grades and trains have to proceed with great caution. Along the Burlington, between Wellfleet and Morefield, a number of small washouts are reported, with several on the Orleans branch. While the heavy rains, it is asserted, will be of great benefit to the growing corn, they are going to delay work in the small grain fields, and if they continue it is feared that they will cause the wheat to sprout in the shocks.

David Cole Enjoys Fine Ocean Voyage

A note written by David Cole on board the Cedric just before landing tells of having had a delightful voyage with ideal weather. He sends back a copy of the ship's daily paper made up of wireless dispatches, and remarks how strange that with a sailing list three-fourths American the passengers should be served news without a single item from the United States.

Bogus Solicitor Gets Business for the Artists' Column

An affable stranger has been working a cheap graft on some of the artists and professional people of the city by pretending to be a solicitor for The Bee. He is tall, good looking, of blonde type, heavily tanned, well dressed and about 40 years old. In some manner he has secured some Bee want ad blanks which he used as credentials. He signs his name as J. J. Collins and collects 75 cents for a ten-line writup which he agrees to put in The Bee Sunday in the "artists column." The Bee has no such solicitor at work and has reported the matter to the police.

Sager Loses Watch While Viewing Moon

Clarence Sager of Benson was enjoying the great round moon at Riverview park Sunday night as he sat on a bench with his arm—well, his young lady friend was with him. Approached a man with thick soles and an underslung jaw.

"It's time you people were out of the park. Get out now, or I'll pinch you both. You're spooning anyway."

Sager and the young woman turned to go. "What time is it?" demanded the man who represented himself as an officer. Sager produced his timepiece, but before he could look at the dial the other had snatched it away and disappeared into the underbrush.

A complaint was made at police headquarters. There is no ordinance against remaining in the parks late.

NEW WHEAT ON THE MARKET

Two Cars Are Bought by the Maney Milling Company.

ARE BID IN AT 73 CENTS

Third Car Arrives Too Late to Get the Benefit of Monday Market and Will Be Sold Here Tuesday.

The first Nebraska grown wheat of this year's crop has arrived onto the Omaha market. There were two carloads of it, both coming over the Missouri Pacific from Brock, Nemaha county. It graded No. 2 hard and tested sixty and one-half pounds per bushel. The grade is the highest ever put on new wheat that has not gone through the sweat and the test is close to one pound above the average for new grain.

The two cars of new wheat came from fields that averaged a little better than forty bushels per acre. It was sent in by the Brock Grain company, consigned to the George A. Roberts company and sold to the Maney Mills company for milling purposes.

The price paid by the Maney Mills company was about 1 cent above the going cash price. There was considerable bidding for the shipment and there were half a dozen buyers anxious to take it at 72 1/2 to 73 cents, but the mills people bid it up to 73 cents and secured the entire shipment of 2,000 bushels.

Too Late for Market.

Another car of new wheat came in from Harvard, Neb., over the Northwestern, but too late to get onto the market. It was sent by the Farmers' Grain and Live Stock company of Harvard, consigned to the Crowell Elevator company and will be on sale Tuesday morning. The car of Harvard wheat weighed out close to sixty-two pounds to the bushel and tested No. 2 hard. It is said to have come from fields that averaged better than thirty-eight bushels to the acre.

By a coincidence, the new wheat arriving on the Omaha market comes on the same date as the first shipment of last year—July 5. From now on it is expected that new wheat will come along in large quantities, as the report is that all through the South Platte country threshing is well under way.

Plan to Change the City Lights is Put Over for a Week

A plan for the redistribution of electric lights, submitted to the council by the city electrician, M. J. Curran, has been referred for one week, when its adoption will be considered.

The proposed plan will eliminate several street lights, and many others will be moved to new locations. The plan was proposed when the electric light company submitted a request for an extension of its street lighting contract.

There is little money in the street lighting fund now and the approval of the electric light contract will mean a reduction in the number of street lights unless an appropriation can be secured from the next legislature. The contract, however, proposed to replace the large arc lights with smaller and cheaper lights, and this will, the commissioners believe, help to solve the problem by increasing the number of available lights.

TWO WOMEN SEEK DIVORCES FROM THEIR HUSBANDS

Mrs. Agnes Jones has brought suit in district court for divorce from Samuel Jones, whom she alleges deserted her more than ten years ago, shortly before the birth of a son, Leo, for whose custody she also prays.

Mrs. Fay Ammon has filed a petition for divorce from Edward, whom she alleges has been so cruel to her that her health has been impaired. She also alleged non-support and asks for alimony.

Petroleum Carbon Coke What Is It?

Petroleum Carbon Coke is not a product made from coal, as is the case with all other cokes. Neither is it a by-product from Gas House, known as gas house coke. Petroleum Carbon Coke is a by-product obtained from the refining of crude oil. Therefore, it is made from oil, and is called Petroleum Carbon Coke. There is not another fuel of any description that does not contain from 10 to 30 per cent of ash. Petroleum Carbon Coke contains no ash. It All Consumes. It can be used in a furnace an entire season without removing a pound of ashes or shaking the grate. It is absolutely and more heat than any other fuel. For furnace, range and grate use, your imagination cannot conceive of a more ideal fuel. Prices $9.50 per ton for July delivery only. The reason we are making this low price is because we want to begin delivering it direct from the cars. Next month the price will advance, so take advantage of the low price now.

Smokeless, Odorless and Sootless. Think of it! No Ash, No Smoke, No Soot, No Odor,
